

Project exhibition at UAP

A daylong project exhibition organized by project club of Electrical and Electronic Engineering Department, University of Asia Pacific (UAP) was held at the UAP Muktamanch on March 2, 2014

Professor Emeritus and former VC UAP Dr. Abdul Matin Patwari inaugurated the exhibition as chief guest and Professor Jamulur Reza Choudhury, VC UAP was present as special guest. The day's program took a festive mode while hundreds of UAP current and former students and faculties thronged.

A total of 31 projects were displayed including smart home security, tesla coil, and mosquito repeller, multipurpose tactical rover with two mechanical arm, eye darkness, remote control AC load, computer and android phone control robot, smart burner, RF control AC load, and DTMF control car. Earlier, in the morning a quiz competition on basic knowledge in EEE field was took place in the department while 200 students participated.

Professor Emeritus and former VC UAP Dr. Abdul Matin Patwari inaugurating the exhibition as chief guest

Professor Jamulur Reza Choudhury, VC UAP visiting the daylong project exhibition