UAP Celebrated the Victory Day of Bangladesh, 2023

UAP observed the Victory Day of Bangladesh 2023 with profound reverence and commemoration. The Directorate of Students' Welfare (DSW) meticulously curated an online tribute on December 18, 2023, via Zoom at 11:00 am, heralding the nation's historic milestone in a stirring assembly.

During Mr. Nasiruddin Yousuff's poignant address, he meticulously recounted his experiences as a courageous member of a crack platoon during the Liberation War. His vivid narrative depicted a tapestry of sacrifices woven by countless heroes. He articulated, "Each day on the battlefield was a testament to our unyielding courage and fervent belief in the righteousness of our cause. The trenches symbolized our unwavering resolve, while the resonance of gunfire echoed our collective pursuit of freedom.

In the darkest hours, the sky illuminated not just with artillery but also with the resolute hope for a liberated nation."

As a filmmaker, Mr. Nasiruddin Yousuff has strived to immortalize these tales of valor, ensuring that the narratives of sacrifice and triumph remain etched in the chronicles of our nation's history.

Furthermore, Ms. Anua Afsana, a young faculty member of Basic Sciences and Humanities, UAP and Mr. Issac Apurba Sarker, a student from the Department of English, UAP shared their reflections on Bangladesh's liberation war. The event garnered attendance from esteemed dignitaries including the Registrar of UAP, Professors from diverse departments, faculty members, officials, and students. Ms. Layeqa Bashir, Assistant Professor and Head of the Department of Basic Sciences and Humanities hosted the event with finesse and expertise.

In conclusion, Dr. A. S. M. Mohsin, Director of DSW, conveyed a heartfelt vote of thanks, underscoring the profound significance of the occasion and its unifying impact on the UAP community.
